Prior to April 1, 2016, the American Funds U.S. Government Money Market Fund was known as the American Funds Money Market Fund.

Prior to January 1, 2018, the American Funds Moderate Growth and Income Portfolio was known as the American Funds Balanced Portfolio and the American Funds Conservative Growth and Income Portfolio was known as the American Funds Income Portfolio.

Although the fund has 12b-1 plans for some share classes, it is currently suspending certain 12b-1 payments in this low interest rate environment. Should payments commence the fund's investment results will be lower and expenses will be higher.

*The Class 529-F-1 share annualized seven-day SEC yield was 1.61% for the American Funds U.S. Government Money Market Fund. For money market funds, the annualized seven-day SEC yields more accurately reflect the fund's current earnings than do the fund's returns.

Investment results assume all distributions are reinvested and reflect applicable fees and expenses. Expense ratios are as of each fund's prospectus available at the time of publication. Expense ratios for the Portfolio Series funds and College Target Date Series funds include the weighted average expenses of the underlying funds. Please see americanfunds.com for more information. The investment adviser is currently reimbursing a portion of other expenses for American Funds Corporate Bond Fund, American Funds Emerging Markets Bond Fund, American Funds Strategic Bond Fund, American Funds College 2036 Fund and American Funds College 2033 Fund. Investment results and net expense ratios reflect the reimbursement, without which the results would have been lower and the expense ratios would have been higher. This reimbursement will be in effect through at least August 1, 2018, for American Funds Corporate Bond Fund, February 9, 2019, for American Funds College 2036 Fund and American Funds College 2033 Fund and March 1, 2019, for American Funds Emerging Markets Bond Fund and American Funds Strategic Bond Fund. The adviser may elect at its discretion to extend, modify or terminate the reimbursement at that time. Investment results reflect the reimbursement, without which the results would have been lower. Please see the funds' most recent prospectus for details. The market indexes are unmanaged and, therefore, have no expenses. MSCI indices are shown with net dividends. There have been periods when the fund has lagged the index.

Class 529-F-1 shares were first offered on September 9, 2002. Class 529-F-1 share results prior to the date of first sale are hypothetical based on Class A share results without a sales charge, adjusted for estimated additional annual expenses. Results for certain funds with an inception date after September 9, 2002, also include hypothetical returns because those funds' Class 529-F-1 shares sold after the funds' date of first offering. Please see americanfunds.com for more information on specific expense adjustments and the actual dates of first sale.

Standard & Poor's 500 Composite Index is a market capitalization-weighted index based on the average weighted results of approximately 500 widely held common stocks. MSCI All Country World Index is a free float-adjusted market capitalization-weighted index that is designed to measure results of more than 40 developed and emerging equity markets. MSCI EAFE (Europe, Australasia, Far East) Index is a free float-adjusted market capitalization-weighted index that is designed to measure developed equity market results, excluding the United States and Canada. Barclays U.S. Aggregate Index represents the U.S. investment-grade fixed-rate bond market.

Prior to April 1, 2016, the American Funds U.S. Government Money Market Fund was known as the American Funds Money Market Fund.

Prior to January 1, 2018, the American Funds Moderate Growth and Income Portfolio was known as the American Funds Balanced Portfolio and the American Funds Conservative Growth and Income Portfolio was known as the American Funds Income Portfolio.

Although the fund has 12b-1 plans for some share classes, it is currently suspending certain 12b-1 payments in this low interest rate environment. Should payments commence the fund's investment results will be lower and expenses will be higher.

*The Class 529-F-1 share annualized seven-day SEC yield was 1.32% for the American Funds U.S. Government Money Market Fund. For money market funds, the annualized seven-day SEC yields more accurately reflect the fund's current earnings than do the fund's returns.

Investment results assume all distributions are reinvested and reflect applicable fees and expenses. Expense ratios are as of each fund's prospectus available at the time of publication. Expense ratios for the Portfolio Series funds and College Target Date Series funds include the weighted average expenses of the underlying funds. Please see americanfunds.com for more information. The investment adviser is currently reimbursing a portion of other expenses for American Funds Corporate Bond Fund, American Funds Emerging Markets Bond Fund, American Funds Strategic Bond Fund, American Funds College 2036 Fund and American Funds College 2033 Fund. Investment results and net expense ratios reflect the reimbursement, without which the results would have been lower and the expense ratios would have been higher. This reimbursement will be in effect through at least August 1, 2018, for American Funds Corporate Bond Fund, February 9, 2019, for American Funds College 2036 Fund and American Funds College 2033 Fund and March 1, 2019, for American Funds Emerging Markets Bond Fund and American Funds Strategic Bond Fund. The adviser may elect at its discretion to extend, modify or terminate the reimbursement at that time. Investment results reflect the reimbursement, without which the results would have been lower. Please see the funds' most recent prospectus for details. The market indexes are unmanaged and, therefore, have no expenses. MSCI indices are shown with net dividends. There have been periods when the fund has lagged the index.

Class 529-F-1 shares were first offered on September 9, 2002. Class 529-F-1 share results prior to the date of first sale are hypothetical based on Class A share results without a sales charge, adjusted for estimated additional annual expenses. Results for certain funds with an inception date after September 9, 2002, also include hypothetical returns because those funds' Class 529-F-1 shares sold after the funds' date of first offering. Please see americanfunds.com for more information on specific expense adjustments and the actual dates of first sale.

Standard & Poor's 500 Composite Index is a market capitalization-weighted index based on the average weighted results of approximately 500 widely held common stocks. MSCI All Country World Index is a free float-adjusted market capitalization-weighted index that is designed to measure results of more than 40 developed and emerging equity markets. MSCI EAFE (Europe, Australasia, Far East) Index is a free float-adjusted market capitalization-weighted index that is designed to measure developed equity market results, excluding the United States and Canada. Barclays U.S. Aggregate Index represents the U.S. investment-grade fixed-rate bond market.
